

Asia-Studies Full-Text Plus (ASFTPlus)

ASFTPlus is a new digital collection that you can immediately link to your library and access the full-text of peer reviewed journals at no cost.

We created this new collection to document and index the explosion of new internet based peer-reviewed journals in the Asian Studies field.

We have reached out to these publications to create a partnership and integrate a new section into the Asia-Studies Full-Text Online database. In this new section, we showcase their content and collaborate in their efforts to increase their readership.

It's Free

This section can be searched and the full-text of all articles can be retrieved and downloaded for free from the original providers' sites. It is open to the world, no registration or subscription is required.

Why is it Free?

ASFTPlus delivers superior results compared to other search engines. Superior, because we hand screen the content indexed for only full-text, peer reviewed journals. Superior because we focus only on indexing Asian Studies scholarly content.

We feature this with a pioneering split search screen to separate content we load from internet based content.

Coverage

At launch, the ASFTPlus collection incorporates more than 20 journals specialized in the Asian Humanities and Social Sciences. The list is rapidly expanding.

A current list of journals is here. Descriptions will be added shortly.

Inclusion Criteria

Only academic peer reviewed journals or institutional publications with a scholarly editorial process are included. We have Content Analysts make sure we only index the scholarly content from each journal site. There are no newsletters and other non-scholarly content. We look for peer recommendations for inclusion.

Updating

The content is updated biweekly to provide your library users with the most current research available.

Comparison to the Asia-Studies Full-Text

We will continue to offer and expand the Asia-Studies Full-Text database on a subscription basis. Asia-Studies Full-Text remains a core of content that will continue to be available only by subscription. ASFTPlus represents a satellite of robust content we offer to the outside world.
